- Apprentice
- Journeyman
- Lead or specialized tradespeople

For example, as of the latest agreements, a journeyman carpenter in Philadelphia might earn approximately $40?$50 per hour, depending on the specific project and union negotiations. Apprentices start at lower rates, gradually increasing as they acquire skills and experience.

- Union versus non-union projects: Union wage rates generally set the standard, but non-union projects may pay lower wages, impacting overall labor market dynamics.

Factors Influencing Wage Rate Negotiations

contractors, and industry associations and are influenced by:

- Industry profitability
- Labor market tightness
- Cost of living adjustments
- Political and legal environment

Prevailing Wage Laws

Federal and state prevailing wage laws, such as those mandated by the Davis-Bacon Act, establish minimum wage standards for federally funded projects. These laws influence local wage negotiations and often set a floor that union rates meet or exceed.

Economic Conditions and Labor Market Dynamics

- Supply and demand: A high demand for skilled carpenters can push wages upward.
- Availability of non-union labor: A surplus of non-union workers can suppress union wage rates.
- Inflation and cost of living: Periodic adjustments ensure wages keep pace with rising expenses.
- Political climate: Legislation impacting union rights or prevailing wage requirements can influence negotiations.

relatively moderate living costs make its wages competitive but not inflated, maintaining a balance that attracts skilled workers while controlling project costs.
